PARENTING BY PAUL DAVID TRIPP SURPASSES 100,000 IN PRINT WITH CROSSWAY

WHEATON, Ill.—Crossway is pleased to announce that Paul David Tripp’s book Parenting: 14 Gospel Principles That Can Radically Change Your Family (Crossway, September 2016), winner of the 2017 ECPA Book of the Year Award for Christian Living, has surpassed 100,000 units in print sales.

In this book, Tripp presents readers with a big-picture view of God’s plan for parents, providing fourteen foundational principles centered on the gospel. Parenting moves beyond mere strategies and techniques to show readers their need for the rescuing grace of God—grace that has the power to free parents from the burden of trying to manufacture life change in their children’s hearts.

“There is nothing more important to consistent, faithful, patient, loving, and effective parenting than to understand what God has given you in the grace of his Son, the Lord Jesus Christ,” writes Tripp. Embracing this grace yields a grand perspective on parenting overflowing with vision, purpose, and joy.

Available in both hardcover and ebook formats, Parenting has received commendations from Ann Voskamp (author of One Thousand Gifts), TobyMac (hip-hop recording artist), and many others.

“[Parenting] is both theological and practical, a rare combination for a parenting book,” writes Francis Chan, author of Crazy Love. “For years, people have asked me to write a book on parenting. After reading this, I am convinced that I could never write one better than this. I’m so glad I read this, but I wish I could have read it twenty years ago.”

Justin Taylor, Publisher for Books at Crossway, notes, “We give thanks to God that so many parents are picking up this book with a desire to have their families shaped by the profound reality and implications of the gospel for all of life.”

Tripp is also the author of New Morning Mercies, which has sold over 250,000 copies. For more information about the author, visit paultripp.com.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT PARENTING

“Paul Tripp constantly turns us back to the life-giving power of the gospel and God’s unfailing grace. Parenting our children is one of life’s greatest challenges, and Paul points us to the one thing that can make a difference—a genuine encounter with the living God.”

TobyMac, hip-hop recording artist; music producer; songwriter

“Simply put, I read everything that Paul Tripp writes. I can’t afford to miss one word.”

“This is the most meaningful book I have read all year. It is both theological and practical, a rare combination for a parenting book. For years, people have asked me to write a book on parenting. After reading this, I am convinced that I could never write one better than this. I’m so glad I read this, but I wish I could have read it twenty years ago. After reading Parenting, I was torn. Part of me wanted to sit, cry, and confess all of my failures as a parent. The other part wanted to scream with excitement for the tremendous insight I now have to be a better parent.”

Francis Chan, New York Times best-selling author, Crazy Love and Forgotten God

“I cannot recommend this book highly enough. It is simply outstanding. This is Tripp at his best: he shows us the big picture of life with Christ and gets down to the nitty-gritty specifics of walking by grace through faith. Tripp’s manifesto is about more than simply our duty as parents—it’s about our privilege of being ambassadors of Jesus Christ to our kids. Moms and dads from every culture will benefit from Tripp’s call for us to live in light of the grace and hope we have in Jesus.”

Gloria Furman, author, Missional Motherhood and Treasuring Christ When Your Hands Are Full

“This book is so timely for me. My bride and I are raising four children aged five and under, and we need help! It’s easy to find books with parenting tips on how to correct our children’s behavior, but Paul Tripp’s book goes far beyond behavior; he takes the reader to the source of the problem—the heart. If we understand our children at a heart level and have a proper understanding of the gospel, then we can parent them as God intends. Paul Tripp has written a simple yet profound book. Parents, you need to read this now. You will surely be blessed.”

Webb Simpson, professional golfer; 2012 US Open Champion

“I am an imperfect parent. You probably are too. Buy this book and soak in it. This is not another ‘5 Steps to Becoming a Perfect Parent’—instead, Tripp wants us to see our relationship to God and to our children through a big-picture lens. My wife and I are always-go-never-stop parents of young children. If you know the feeling, this book will be both challenging and refreshing, and ultimately it will be a great blessing to your journey. Tripp has made me think in a fresh way about the extremely important and tremendously challenging task that is everyday parenting. To raise up a child is a great responsibility—let us take it up with reverence, joy, and a loving heart!”

Jacob Tamme, retired NFL® tight end

Continued
“A subject needing careful study, a messenger committed to the truth, and a careful application of God’s Word. The power is in the combination, and it all comes together in Paul Tripp’s new book called Parenting. Read it and see one of your most important human responsibilities become more of what God created it to be.”

James MacDonald, Senior Pastor, Harvest Bible Chapel, Rolling Meadows, Illinois; author, Vertical Church
